DETAILED ACTION
RESTRICTION/ELECTION

1. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

The many different R1-R9 groups, additives, carriers, anticancer treatments, chemotherapy agents, radiations, and skin lesions in the claims.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

2. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:
 - 1). Many different R1-R9 groups- as recited in claims 13 and 14.
 - 2). Many different additives- as recited in claim 28.

- 3). Many different carriers- as recited in claim 30.
- 4). Many different anticancer treatments- as recited in claim 32.
- 5). Many different chemotherapy agents- as recited in claim 33.
- 6). Many different radiations- as recited in claim 34.
- 7). Many different skin lesions- as recited in claim 35.

The following claim(s) are generic: claim 1.

3. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Wang et al (Cancer Research 54: 3428-3435, 1994) teach the inhibitory effects of black tea and green tea on ultraviolet B light-induced skin carcinogenesis (lesion) in mice, therefore, there is no special technical feature in the application. Accordingly the groups are not so linked as to form a single general concept under PCT Rule 13.1., and therefore lack of unity of invention exists.
